My term of Office upon the Earth being come in the year of the foundation of the Theosophical Society I took upon myself, in my turn, the Sin of the whole World, that the prophecies might be fulfilled, so that Mankind may take the Next Step - from the Magical Formula of Osiris to that of Horus.

And mine Hour being now upon me, I proclaim my Law

The word of the Law is, Thelema (in Grk) T).

Solis. 12 30 A.M. (11.30 P.M. Saturday.) The weather, wretched all summer, has been quite decent for the last 4 or 5 days. To-day it was a little cloudy and a few drops of rain fell - one of numerous incidents calculated to stop my getting out of Paris with Astrid. (sic.c.) (We are at the Hotel du Grand Coude Chantilly). Since the Opn. of the Eqx. a very violent gale has sprung up. It is howling like the Atlantic in mid-winter; glass is being smashed &c &c.

Sol. 1.0 A.M. (12.) The storm has abated as suddenly as it started - not a breath of wind now stirring.

Monday Back to Paris. Invaded 207. Leah collapsed.

Tuesday To Marseille. Train before ours derailed. Line washed out: 4½ hrs. delay. Terrific thunderstorm. On arrival all clear again. (This always happened storm at start: fine at finish)

Mercury. G G G sailed at noon, not 17 h. No time in Marseille to see anything: barely to cable & breakfast. Storm began again on sailing. ½ Dead of fatigue, & no cabin available at first. Finally, paying 10 fr. extra got one with berth. It sufficed.

Thursday. arr. Tunis in fine weather. Went to Majestic Hotel. Aumont met us: we arranged to start revising translation of the D. F. next a.m.
Diary of a Dring Fiquet into French

Friday. Wired Banker's Trust to cable any funds as they arrived. This they duly received. (Wired also M.R. to come)

Saturday. The next fortnight is one long dream of ecstasy, punctuated by ~~frantic~~ frantic telegrams for funds, and ditto from Alos-trael. We have still (Oct 11) no real news as to what has happened in Paris! (c. pages between taken up with the manifesto To Man - not copied here.)

We have had no small change to go out to Carthage &c, though we borrowed 200 fr. from Aumont. Most of the time we have had to feed very expensively in the hotel. Aumont's loans came when we were down to below a franc &c. The Bank acknowledged our cable, & receipt of funds on Oct 2. Since then absolute silence! It is not worrying, but bewildering. The night of our arrival at Tunis we found the bed full of huge bugs. We killed a dozen at least. Astrid went to sleep on the floor! In A.M. we complained - and there were no adequate traces of the corpora delicti! I feel sure they were just Qliphoth.

Saturday. folly. After 2 rebuffs, I found a jeweller to transform my 9^e = 2nd ring into a Jewel for the Brows of Astrid. This Saturday night I bound it thereupon. During dinner, between the times of getting the jewel & putting it on, a terrific storm burst. Whole city flooded; electric light twice out; and we had to wade home on foot.

Thursday 6th to Moniet el-Kaid.

D.O. bad night. Star 8.20. All very dumpy; but not so individual. A vast sea of average waves. Arr. 1.40 at Bordj. D's mule shied at a package, and nearly threw her. The man said it was 20 k.m. and this seems more like it than the 14 alleged. The dunes were broken up a good deal for the last 2 hours or so: there is now quite a lot of scrub. The bordj is alone by the well and a landmark: it is very ornamental - and comfortable, a spring mattress for a bed, tables, chairs, cooking-place etc.

Left El Oued 3.30. Dorothy thrown from mule. Dunes solid at first then more dunes than ever before. Arr Ouarned 6.10. A charming village with palms still in pits. Moon a wonderful sight.

Friday Oct 10. 500 fr arrived by registered mail - a mandat (~~2.c.c.~~) - we were able to touch it. British M.O. £16 & John's cheque £17.0.0. have proved useless: ditto Dorrane's (?c.) $100: Bank silent under repeated telegrams: utterly incomprehensible. This P.M. a magical fire in the room. A strong smell - burning rags with a touch of wax - but no fire discoverable. The room was quite full of smoke. Out of windows, & in corridor, all clear. (N.B. On Thursday 9th. Astrid had begun Moon (sign for c.))

Oct. 11. Out to Carthage: walked via Grotte aux Mille amphores to S/ bou Said. Home very tired. Kept the Feast of the Birth of Muhammed returned home. Astrid felt a Presence - calm, strong, & gentle - in the room, but could not place it. She put her Star on, & I struck the Bell. She instantly got ill: but could not attach it to any idea or form. I suddenly fell asleep. (idi)

Oct 12 die Sunday. Dawn-meditation as usual. Astrid woke meditating the number 4 which she had seen last night in the window after I slept. It was as on Book 4, not ~~an extraordinary way~~ 4. The Electric lighting, water supply, (both h. & c.) & the lift - all have stopped!

The essential difficulty of writing History is that the man who was there cannot possibly describe it. At least, he must be 8⁰ = 3rd to have a chance. So this record is likely to be as sketchy as Caesar's Commentaries.

Resume of journey from Tunis. On Tuesday Oct 14 our money difficulties cleared up suddenly & almost miraculously. (Manager Majestic had refused a British Money Order the week before - now cashed a personal cheque on N.Y!) But only just enough to go onward.

Result: Citroen Cheville broke up on hard road Touggourt - Ouargla!! Col. Leboeuf left Gabes au avion for Eastern Erg: fell among dunes - debris found 2 or 3 years later. Genl. Laperriue similarly, but far south in flat desert: found 2 months later. Has 2 men survived.

Spent the evening with the Dancing Girls: also a boy, extraordinarily good - best I ever ~~saw~~ saw. Hotel here A.1. of its kind. Bar the Oasis itself, this place is far better than Nefta. Algeria, too: no more slavish Tunisian restrictions.

die Sol. 26th. A delightful day. Sunset from minaret wunderschön. Starlight and song in the garden cafe. "And the afternoon - and the night!" (N.B. The day after we got to Nefta there was a magical attack of flies - made Astrid quite ill. Conquering the impulse to quarrel about it, we were totally free of them next day, though weather conditions were identical.)

die Venus 31st. Still held up for lack of either cash or "a great lord and a comely". Astrid sick: I think she should wear more on her head in the sun. But she believes me not. However, we are quite in love with the idea of going to Timbuktu.

die Sunday. He is indeed a mighty Marabout. We rode out on mules & found the village en grand gala. His house was hung with superb carpets in our honour, without and within. We met his brother, cousins, & college friend, and fed on some 18 dishes - hors d'oeuvre - leading up to a sheep roasted whole, brought in on a vast copper tray. We tore off the crackling with great joy: it was a noble bird. (I had not seen a sheep even 2/3 the size before in these parts: he explained that 'twas for our sweet sakes & apologized that the short notice had not allowed him to provide a camel. We visited the tomb of the father (& brother). He is spending fr.60,000 on it. The cupola is some 30 m. high. Finally he rode in to El Oued with us, & shewed us his new house, adjoining the University he is now building. He insisted on sending us in food twice a day till we left: this we may do on Wednesday.

Friday 24 April 11.11 P.M. A single drink of rum (on top of a good deal of mental worry during the day) was enough to induce in D.O. an attack of acute mania. Lying in bed, close cuddled, I nearly asleep, she suddenly started to scratch my face without the least warning, with a spate of the filthiest incoherent abuse of me and everybody connected with me. There had been a good deal of irritation & snappiness during the afternoon & evening, with one or two beginnings of the regular ravings: but no one took any notice, & they subsided. N.B. She had started to Luna(sign for.c) ate that morning, & then stopped.
